

Math

The math materials are introduced in sequence from simple concepts to increasingly complex mastery, always using solid objects and counting skills before introducing abstract symbols or memorization. The concrete materials are designed to measure, sequence, pair and count using beads, objects, rods and spindles. All materials are self-correcting. We provide various works for 1-10 comprehension, teach place value with golden beads, and introduce multiplication and division as logical extensions of adding and subtracting.